Last night, the House passed a historic piece of legislation that I was proud to support - the Cut, Cap, and Balance Act of 2011. In passing this commonsense bill, the House sent a message to President Obama and our colleagues in the Senate that we will not raise the debt ceiling without substantial spending cuts and fiscal reform.

But the debate on our nation's fiscal future is not over, as the President and Congressional Leaders continue their negotiations.

I wanted to take a moment to share my thoughts with you on the debt ceiling negotiations, as well as the passage of the Cut, Cap, and Balance Act and President Obama's threat to veto the bill, despite never having offered a serious plan of his own.

If you haven't already, be sure to like my Facebook page, follow me on Twitter, or check out my YouTube page to stay informed on everything I'm doing on your behalf in Washington and in Illinois.

As always, it is truly an honor to serve you in Washington. Please contact me at 630.232.7104 or 202.225.2976 if I can be of assistance, or if you'd like to share your thoughts on the issues before Congress.

In service,

Randy Hultgren
Member of Congress
