Dear Friend,

This past week my colleagues and I in the House of Representatives swore an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. And what better way to begin our time serving you in this new 115th Congress than reading this foundational document on the House floor.

This has been only the fourth time the document has been read in full in the House. We began this tradition when I entered Congress in 2011.

I was honored to participate and recorded a video with my thoughts about this new session of Congress. I encourage you to watch it. (Wait until the end to see which section I was privileged to read.)
